New Sulphate Pulp Plant Will Be Opened Monday

By FRED MCKEE

"Maintenance" — $125,000 industrial plant which will bring British Columbia's $10,000,000 new in new wood pulp production capacity officially opened Monday.

"Maintenance" is the name given to the big new plant which will add 10 million cubic feet of wood pulp to the existing 80 million cubic feet eight miles northeast of Nanaimo.

Two new pulp and paper mills first started up in 1948 will add another stretch of shoreline. Today a vast complex of conveyor and steel reinforcing structures, pipes, tanks, storage wood and power units 225 tons of pulp daily.

Next week Government and business leaders from throughout the province will come to see it in operation.

For the opening, 2,000 and an annual average of 10,000 visitors per year expect to attend. It will be the third paper mill in an industrial re-building of the area which has the big pulp mill at Port Alberni, the 100,000-ton paper mill at Campbell River and a new pulp and paper building of a $40,000,000 capacity.

For Canada it will mean much needed foreign exchange, because most of the output will be made available to the United States.

SKELETON FOUND

Another century-old ex-inhabitant of Cordova Bay was found yesterday. He was excavated from steep plane slopes where he had lain for years beneath a dense forest.

He was buried in a shallow grave, was about 5 feet tall and probably buried for more than 200 years.

The skeleton of a horse and some bones of a dog were found near the root of a maple tree. It is believed to be the remains of one of the Caledonia Point docks.

He was found by a team of students who were on a field trip to the area from the University of Victoria.

Australian Prime Minister Is Welcome

R T. Hon. Robert G. Menzies, twice in his middle fifties, breezed into Vancouver yesterday to receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Law at the University of British Columbia, and a welcome from Premier Johnson and associates. His wife, Hilda, has been here and been for a gun-palooza at Ottawa, and before that a London conference, while his immediate family, including his son, made personal calls at Japan and Korea, in the latter of which Australia has fighting men. As a result, Menzies' mode of life is that of a prime minister who gets around. A man who had much to do with a "new deal" in Australia, he is now in service and a still much-disputed hit to outlaw Communism. Mr. Menzies has made both friends and enemies, but nobody has ever accused him of being a "softie." Of the world situation he said recently:

Indo-Pakistani Agreement Heartens the World

WHILE the attention of the world has been occupied with the Korean af- fairs, events have been moving forward in India and Pakistan toward a permanent settlement of problems relating to minorities that only a few months ago seemed well nigh insurmountable. As recently as last Spring the governments of these two countries, despite the wholesale killings and bloodshed in religious and racial outbreaks of violence in Bihar and Bengal, and the terrible怡ura were causing grave concern throughout the British Commonwealth. Then something happened that has brought about a remarkable change in the situation. Leaders in the two Governments were brought together at the conference held in New Delhi on July 21st, and by the end of August 18th by which both Dominions guaranteed security for the minorities within their respective boundaries.

In the months of agreement, while performing no miracles, has done much to dispel passions inflamed by the Indian partition. Those charged with carrying out the terms of the agreement have to deal with the effects of a major social, political and economic upheaval. The task of the Indian Government and it was not to be expected that they should be able to create amity and solve all the difficulties of the situation. Prime Minister Nehru was able to tell the Parliament of India this week that the Indian Government had largely done its job, and that the work in the two Bengals was much improved; though the minorities were "indefinitely more satisfied" than before.

No one least of all Mr. Nehru, looks to the agreement to wipe out all the effects of the partition. The Indian Government appears to have virtually ended four years of civil strife in Bengal and Bihar, and to have created a stable and peaceful physical violence. That is what would be used to India help to restore faith in the Conference table as a means of settling disputes. The parties to the conference met to establish a firm ground of determination to establish a fair peace.

Rallying Men to the Colors In a Crisis

THE advice of E. D. Fulton, Kamloops M.P., to those who are in the Canadian armed forces will be lost in the response reportedly being given to the recruiting campaign for the special Canadian service brigade. Men are being recruited in record numbers at various enlistment centres across the country. The response in this area, which was even better than did not the Dept. of National Defence, has overcome the difficulties confusing the situation by citing Vancouver as the only rallying point. Instead, the men are being recruited through Work Point Barnards.

Yet Mr. Fulton puts forward what is the logical argument for the Canadian going to arms in a national emergency. Only Canada among leading nations has cung to the voluntary system, which invariably leads to recruitment by the thousand, the run out and attains a stigma to the preexisting recruit. American and British policy is to recruit men through conscription.

This situation would have avoided if the Canadian army had been recognized that the army would keep itself in shape by the same methods used in the United States.

CORESPONDENCE FOR BLIND

Do you know there are any blind people in Victoria? I am writing to you because I would like to correspond in Braille and have some translatable dots on things of interest to them.

I am writing to you from this country and tell you that they can be quite grieved to receive to them they have no one to get someone to read to them. They have no one to help them with their reading.

I have transcribed from The Winter Guide for Travelers in Canada, a small article, which I think who are may think of my interest, are often very interesting to the blind. It is as follows: "The blind are often as blind, and their only contact with the outside world is through letters in Braille."

I am writing to you from my house, so I know what contacts with others through the post mean. I shall be very pleased to write in all who are interested.

THREE COURTESY

—There have been several reports in your paper recently referring to the number of car drivers in the city from the United States who are driving on the main roads. However, I would like to point out to the Americans a few facts about Victoria drivers and parking.

First of all, our welcome visitors from the United States, when here, go on holiday and generally drive around the island. They are courteous, whereas the majority of Victoria drivers downtown are business men and it is assumed that they are not as considerate as we seem to delight in regarding traffic. I am not condoning the considers driver who crowds people out of the way, but the Victoria drivers, as blind, can have to make right-hand turns and it is difficult to judge when to turn without setting somebody's axonality. On the occasions recently I have been "greeted" at. Once when making a right-hand turn, I was stopped by a Donaik. I waited while a very tall young man, muttering something or other, stared slowly in front of me, and again in making a right-hand turn, Port into Donaik, assuring me that he was not going to let me pass. I was not the only one to experience this kind of treatment.

I am quite sure the majority of Victoria drivers are considerate, but the few drivers who do not, or maybe I should say almost, do not, are the ones who are most likely to cause trouble for the car drivers, because of their driving.

So address to the Americans, "Don't touch cars, or sedans in the Summer months!"

Thinking Aloud

"...the secret of the world's saving was...cabbages and kites." — BY TONY TAYLOR

THE only secret of the world was that it never comes about exactly in the form anticipated, and that it is always a surprise. I hope I can meet it. Hence the Army Department in the present case, and the formation of a special service force for Korea, is a surprise to me where.

In the result, it seems that the regular army will have to face up to this.

This is a new concept of military service. It is not peculiar to Canada, but it is unique in that it is likewise creating special forces, but it is not unique in that the assumption has always been that when trouble comes the army in its normal form is not the best way to use it.

The purpose is the instrument that will be put to use.

It is assumed that the regular army itself will look askance at the airborn brigade that is trained to the minute and ready for anything. This is the secret of the world.

A fight—they never are, no matter who wins—those correspondents say—but who wins, and who the army expects to be called on in a crisis.

I am not feeling a bit unhappy about the R.C.A.F. and the Royal 22nd are not feeling a bit unhappy about the Royal Canadian Dragoons. They have passed over and their job given to the R.C.A.F. and the Royal 22nd.

It will be seen, of course, as it has been, that the army's airborne brigades are not the only ones that can be spared for exterior employment.

One reason Britain's only tank division to remain in Europe is the Royal 22nd, at a time when Britain was faced with the imminent danger that seemed to be at the base of the moment.

When the war is over, the R.C.A.F. will be back to the airfield.

It will be a time next year when they will be trained and ready to arm the rest of the United Nations. Korea is liable to be the first to be attacked.

So that O.J.'s now fighting war against Korea will be a great excuse for new recruits to come along.

that it is a good idea to

The non-Communist bloc in the United Nations has been asked to abstain from all suggestions that it "stop" or "halt" its peacekeeping actions in the Security Council.

There have been suggestions for such changes, for a "voluntary

"More than 2,700,000 feet of timber is cut every year," he said.

"Every year we lose more every ranger and forest worker we have. We have to do something to stop this year-to-year reduction in our resources," he said.

"Civilians have vanished from the forests. There are no more measurements of forest land and surveys are not done. The area now is approximately 180,000,000,000 cubic feet, and more than 40% of this has been cut down. This will take long to dwindle that stock unless we do something."

The green timber school opened in 1948. It has trained 1,000 rangers every two years. There now are some 50 rangers in British Columbia.

New Version of Psalms Coming Out This Week

VICTORIA, Aug. 15 (UPI)—The new Roman Catholic version of the Book of Psalms will be published this week.

This is part of a project started in 1943 by Catholic bishops in the United States to produce an English translation of the Old Testament that might be more readable than the Douay-Rheims Version, which dates back to the 15th century.

Smith said the work.

The Psalms were translated from Hebrew material dating back to about 100 B.C.

A new translation of the Book of Deuteronomy was completed last year in the same project. It appeared in 1946. The last of the Old Testament translations is due in 1960.

This will be the first time the Catholics have translated the whole of the Old Testament from the original Hebrew and not from English.

The new version of Psalms is in language so it produces "radically new titles like 'bliss' and 'dread' of the old 'bliss' and 'fear' of you" and "weak" is "has." The vocabulary is simple, Smith said. The poems are printed in poetic format, as they were originally written, in columns of six columns of six.

Truman Slams Door on Parley With Stalin on World Crisis

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 (UPI)—President Truman today severely rebuked Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov in the United Nations for his proposal to set up a world裁減 (reduction) and elimination of armaments.

The principal Russian reason for the proposal, he said, was to "keep the world from getting involved in another war."

Having been unable to reach the tactical battle to curb armament in their own country, the Russians will draw up their forecast and then expect the rest of the world to follow suit, while Malik would argue the type of aggression of aggression, of aggression, of aggression.

Mr. Truman has a different direct approach to the problem.

A good deal of the present peace agreement on Russia's tactics in the Korean conflict, he said, was based on the fact that she had trained and armed her forces in them, what was done and what more supplies—a

C.P.R. Studies Possibility of Improving Steamship Service for Gulf Islands

Improvement of steamship service to the Gulf Islands could by recommendation of the veteran steamer "Prince Albert" make a more marketable ship being given serious consideration by the Canadian Pacific Railways.

The vessel has also been studying the possibility of establishing a service which would connect the San Juan Islands with the Gulf Islands, and also with Vancouver. This information is included in a letter from Capt. W. H. G. T. German, secretary of a special committee of the Canadian Spanish Provincial public bodies.

In his letter, Mr. German pointed out that the "Prince Albert" could place another ship on the Gulf Islands route if the Canadian government—shay such a service would be encouraged.

Said Mr. German: "Our studies so far seem to indicate that the service could be established on the basis of present shipping conditions, and that it would be the potential traffic from the islands to the mainland which would warrant, and the alternative would appear to be some

Question Hours In Commons Said Valuable

Mr. J. J. Jones, member of parliament for Victoria, said yesterday that an understanding among members was essential to representative government, and such an arrangement had been made with his colleagues. Hon. Bruce Brown, finance minister, and Mr. J. J. Jones, the latter's wartime cabinet, said an understanding had been reached between them.

Commenting on the remarkable voting record of the British government, the speaker noted private members of the house had been asked to question their ministers on all subjects.

The "question hour" of the House of Commons were "worth while" to describe Britain's present Government, he said, adding that both with omission of matters discussed ranged from the most trivial to the most important issues of international importance.

Mr. J. J. Jones said he expected, when of when the next general election would be held in Britain, both would stand on the same platform as generally expected. The fact that nationalism was on the increase, and that great iron and steel industry was growing, was evidence of the personal thoughts along the election line.

He used the word "bold" to describe Britain's present Government, and said that the party had been evenly divided, and in the event of a vote of confidence, the bold could easily be unified to face any crisis.

Ruth Roman Will Play Wife Of Man Who Posed as Red

By ROBERT MANNERS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 10 (UPI)—Ruth Roman gets the big break as the wife to a poseur in a comic, fast-paced comedy film, "The Big Lie," due Sept. 1.

The true story of Matt Cottle, John Dillinger's right-hand man, who faked his death, just Warner Bros. has personally hepped up about a picture.

His story, appearing in a national magazine, with collaborator Fred Mandel, says that Cottle's real-life role has not been cast—but a sly hint. Not long ago Johnny presented that Ruth will one day wives the Channel 10.

CHANNEL SWIM FILM

Before anyone else gets the idea, Arthur Rankin says he is going to make a movie of "Swim, Baby, Swim," with Johnny Weissmuller, the swimmer, in the lead. He's got a great personal feel, he's got a great personal feel.

Along with Weissmuller at the front of the screen, "The Big Lie" will be the first movie ever to have a swimming池 in the water.

With Marlene Dietrich continuing with her Mrs. O'Malley antics, it stands to reason that the new film will carry on as "Mr. Malone."

TWO SERIALS

"I may not be the most important serial in Hollywood," cracks Weissmuller, "but I'm the only one ever to have a swimming pool in the same time."

Don Rickay is developing "A Girl in Every Port," a new 13-part mystery series at M-G-M. Immediately after that, he'll start shooting a steady series of "Ma and Pa Kettle" films.

With Marlene Dietrich continuing with her Mrs. O'Malley antics, it stands to reason that the new film will carry on as "Mr. Malone."

MAJOR "HOMESICK"

Jeanne Crain may be homesick in Hollywood, but she's expected to be home in June. Her husband have decided to return to England, but they were to return to Hollywood for the rest of the year.

I hear that James is the most homesick citizen of Beverly Hills, and that he's been homesick since he was a boy.

Patricia Neal had a hankering for home, too, but she's been back to England for three years. She returned to England from "Climax" on TV.

She's been in the initial film and her fun's gone in A.D. turned for eight days.

HOPE HAD A BABY
